

SGX Bull Charge Cares: Fridays with AWWA (March)

It was a busy morning for the 26 TEC geeks led by Tinku Gupta, Head of Technology, at AWWA. The volunteers were divided into two teams: Cooking and Activities.

For the cooking segment, the team had all possible domain knowledge – planning, cooking, washing, distributing, photo-taking and also service management. There was also a project plan which had individual cooking tasks with resource and assigned schedules – short of putting red, yellow, green status code.

For the activity segment, amongst the team were many hidden talents – putting on creative and artistic hats to guide the seniors to DIY their lovely mini terrariums, ‘auction Emcee for Bingo Show’, musical talent (Er-Hu), dancers and singers. The seniors sang along happily to the music of “上海滩 (The Bund)”, swayed and waved to the dancing movements of “小苹果 (Little Apple)”. The photos below certainly describe how sporting they were!

Not only was it a lovely day for the seniors, but also a meaningful one for our volunteers. With love and care, everyone can help make a better world for tomorrow.
