

SGX Bull Charge Cares: Fridays with AWWA (October)

SGX Market Data & Connectivity (MDC) and Membership & International Coverage (MIC) units gathered at AWWA Senior's Activity Centre on 27 October 2017 for a morning of fun and interaction with the seniors.

The crew of 19 genial and enthusiastic SGX volunteers was first given a tour around the premises and briefed on the lifestyle and daily challenges faced by the AWWA seniors.

The volunteers were then split into two groups. The first group conducted home visits with home-bound and relatively less mobile seniors to interact and provide care and companionship. The other group was tasked with running an exciting Bingo Session for the seniors gathered at the activity centre.

The Bingo Game got off to a rip-roaring start with the seniors taking well to the lively and vivacious way the session was run by SGX star volunteer Adrian Yap – SGX’s resident Bingo Champion. Winners were well rewarded with prizes ranging from Bird’s Nest to Anlene Milk Powder, and they also brought home Polaroid photos of their winning moments taken together with the friendly volunteers from SGX!

After the Bingo session, seniors, still effervescent with excitement from the morning’s high-spirited activities, were served mouth-watering bento lunch sets topped off with healthy fruits and drinks. Volunteers were also on hand to assist with the distribution of bento lunch boxes to seniors at the Senior Community Home through the kitchen pigeon hole.

The SGX volunteers thoroughly enjoyed the rewarding morning, well spent with the AWWA seniors and are looking forward to support the next SGX Bull Charge Cares event!
